We Create

This book is a story, an essay in pictures, of the happenings of this year on the Bella Vista High School Campus. It has been a year of learning, of new experiences, and accomplishments. The 1967 REMUDA has tried to capture the spirit of the year as we will remember it in years to come.

In keeping with this goal, the theme of this book is creativity. There is creativity in every field of school endeavor, whether it be in athletics, organizations, or classroom performances.

It is the aim of this book to show the relationship between scholastic life and the creativity of each individual.

Alice, really been fun being bestest friends.

. . . Competition

We create competition in almost every aspect of our school lives. We contend not only with our fellow students, but also with ourselves. This is the way we succeed, by forever setting higher goals and striving to reach them. Along with competition on the track, the football field, and the tennis courts, the individual vies for progress within himself. He creates a rivalry on his own to progress and prosper as an individual.

... Spirit

"School Spirit", this phrase means more than cheering the final touchdown in a cold, biting wind. The enthusiasm we feel towards our school includes the pride we have in every aspect of our school lives. WE CREATE a pride in our school by the desire to be best, and the energy and enthusiasm to make this ambition come true.

Alice,
just think pretty soon
we're going to be silly sophomores. This year has gone by so fast I can hardly believe it. I wish we could have had some classes together.
I don't think we've had any since I met
you. Maybe next year,
I hope we can all

I hope you have a lot of fun this summer.
I think you're one of the nicest person's I've ever known. Please stay the way you are cute, sweet & darling.
see ya this summer Debbie

A glowing example of the enthusiasm we feel towards Bella Vista is demonstrated by the throngs of students, alumni, faculty and friends that appear to inspire victory at the annual Homecoming football game.

. . . Tradition

Tradition plays an important role in the existence of any school and Bella Vista is no different. Forms of customs created over the years are the privilege of student government and justice, and the graduation ceremony that is held every spring on the Great Court. The tradition of the Senior Lawn, with the right of entrance granted only to seniors, and the spirited float building before homecoming are also customs at Bella Vista.

The bewilderment of a freshman on his first day in September has also become traditional. Each year ends with the signing of yearbooks--a practice that will always remain.

. . . A Harmonious Group

As a group, the goal of the entire student body is to receive an education. In this group we are creating an ability to exist together harmoniously. Each day we seek to increase our knowledge, not only scholastically, but also by developing a better understanding of each other.

Alice, well it was fun in French

you're really a sweet girl.
You've got beautiful clothes, but you're really darling too but

... Individuality

We are also individuals striving to comprehend the world around us, the world that will soon be ours. We must make use of every opportunity we have available to us to become better individuals. WE CREATE a goal for ourselves, and endeavor to satisfy this ambition through education and experience.

Alice,
Well, this year
is finally over. Can't believe it. How do ya
like Bella Vista?
Groovy huh. HAVE fun this summer

ACTIVITIES PRELUDE

One of the more sparkling highlights of every home football game is the Bella Vista Marching Band.

These girls are participating in Antique Day during Homecoming week.

Looks like Robbie is holding an excellent replica of an eagle.

Bernice Funk and Sherrie Hetherington serve at the Homecoming Breakfast.

“Reflections Of Time”

One of the more "secretive" aspects of each Homecoming year is the unveiling of the class and club floats. As those who work on the floats know, many hours of work, toil, and fun are fused into each float. And as many know, the secrecy of the float make-up is very debatable. But it all makes for fun and this year's floats were just as exciting and fun to build as they were to display at the Homecoming game. The Seniors carried off the top honors with their portrayal of the C.V.C. Champ, but the Juniors came in to take a very close second place.

ORGANIZATIONS

TALENTED ADMINISTRATORS

Mr. George L. White
Principal

DIRECT BELLA VISTA

Close relationship between Mr. White and his faculty is a valued asset in the success of the school. Here he talks with Mr. Bryson Wallace.

Mr. Gerry Laird
Vice Principal

George White doesn't always have time to eat lunch. He's busy with the huge task of being principal of Bella Vista.

Though this is a tall order, Mr. White brings to his job a wealth of talent and energy. In the words of his secretary, Mrs. Laurison, "He's never idle!"

A major function of his is to help set policy within the school district, and then, through the department chairmen, co-ordinate and carry it out at Bella Vista. Mr. White, in fact, also helps set policy at the state level, through the California Teachers' Association, an organization in which he is very active.

Amateur chef, Fair Oaks Chamber of Commerce "Man of the Year" in 1957, Phi Delta Kappa, active in Rotary Club and Red Cross, absorbed with any and all school activities and projects - his interests and accomplishments are myriad.

It is small wonder that Mr. White has made Bella Vista a school worth dedicating the time and effort to excel - whether as athlete, scholar, teacher, or administrator.

You'll find Mr. Gerry Laird always on the go, keeping pace with his many responsibilities as vice-principal.

One of these duties is the scheduling of all school activities and co-ordinating them as to time and place - and this is only one part of his job.

In addition, Mr. Laird, a spirited Bronco, has widely varied interests - such as school activities, games, and the American Field Service's foreign exchange student program - he usually has a hand in everything.

Never too busy to be friendly, though, Mr. Laird embodies and contributes in many ways to the Bella Vista spirit of participation, excellence, and leadership.

District Administration

Education

Dr. Ferd J. Kiesel
Superintendent of Schools

Dr. James R. Cowan
Assistant Superintendent for Business

The hierarchy known as District Administration is a nebulous group to most students since they have little contact with its services. The top positions in the structure are the Board of Education, the District Superintendent, four Assistant Superintendents, and various directors and coordinators.

Theirs is the job of planning, administering, and centralizing a business operation of some 2,000 teachers, 57,000 students, 70 schools worth about $60,000,000, a fleet of buses worth $1,200,000, and handling a yearly budget of about $28,000,000.

Their business is preparing young generations to be producing members of tomorrow's society. This responsibility is a heavy one, and its accomplishment cannot be measured in dollars.

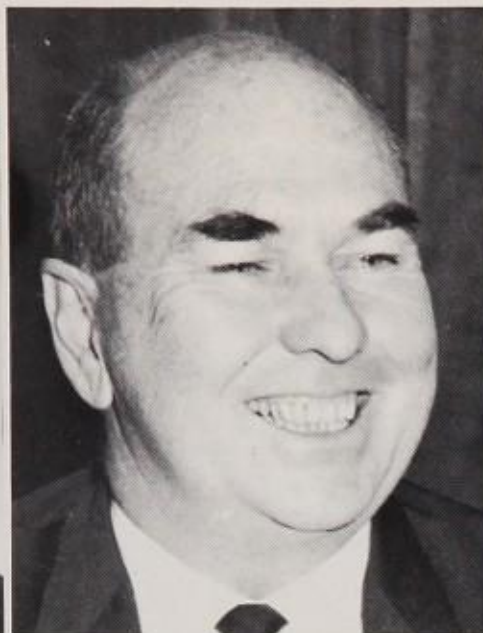

This vast network of people behind the scene - District Administration - is vital to the efficient functioning of Bella Vista High School.

COUNSELORS AND DEANS OFFER

INDIVIDUALIZED GUIDANCE

Besides being Dean of Girls, Mrs. Reese also pinch-hits for teachers and nurse.

Dean of Boys Robert Atteberry also co-ordinates Bella Vista faculty and P. T. A.

Ultimately, it is the counselors and the deans who deal with the problems of the students on the individual level.

Each year, the counselors help students choose courses that will prepare them for the future. As juniors and seniors, students receive information and assistance regarding colleges and careers. The counselor takes a personal interest in the problems and successes of each student.

The unenviable job of disciplining students, as well as the mammoth responsibilities of master scheduling of students, school records, co-ordinating attendance and curricula belong to the Dean of Girls, Mrs. Julia Reese, and the Dean of Boys, Mr. Robert Atteberry.

Though the duties of the counselors and the deans are great, it is their willingly given personal assistance, guidance and interest that is so valuable to the students' future and to Bella Vista.

ART SEMINAR OFFICERS: John Abeln (Vice-President), Mary Alice McClarin (Treasurer), Sue Cabodi (President), Gail Whitney, Lyn Freeman, and Kathy Mittendorf (Secretary).

And Seminar Provide Student Creativity

Op, pop, metal sculpture, three dimensional painting--from the ancient to the avant garde, Bella Vista's art students create a little of everything.

Advanced art students, of course, are able to handle more freedom in expression, while the lower echelon first gains a solid foundation in basic art principles.

The goal of the Art Department is to provide freedom, flexibility, and scope enough for talent to develop. Courses are offered in ceramics and sculpture, drawing and painting, commercial art, and art I and II. The individual effort of the student is considered a great importance and is rewarded as such. In the art wing, the very walls of the rooms, which sing with a riot of color and design, are the best evidence that this is a successful philosophy. In addition, the Art Department tries to bring its art before the public and the school at large.

ENRICHMENT SEMINAR POPULAR

Art Seminar gives each student a chance to do his own work and bring good art to the attention of our school and community. Under the direction of Mr. Ketelle, the club placed a booth in the Sacramento Spring Fair for competition of scholarships and planned and financed the showcase in our cafetorium. Besides expressing their artistic ability, a guest speaker, film, and demonstrations completed the seminar programs.

Business Department Boasts Graduates

"Every student should have a vocational skill, whether or not plans include work, college, or marriage." This is Department Chairman Lee Murdock's emphatic view. Bella Vista's Business Department employs a relatively new program which makes it possible to provide graduating seniors with vocational skills in one of three areas: stenographic, clerk-typist, or general office clerk. Following a planned and complete sequence of courses enables students to go directly to a job upon leaving high school. All successful graduates of this program are awarded certificates of proficiency which attest to this.

Medical and legal secretaries are in great demand. Typing and shorthand are valuable to students in college; and to women who work after marriage. The possibilities that a vocational skill brings are great and the sense of independence is priceless throughout life.

The Improvements Of Department

Closed circuit television added a new dimension to English 4.

Drama class hams pose for photographer.

The latest scheme looks like television and a gadget-filled reading lab; actually they are just a clever disguise.

The English Department is up to its old trick of constantly seeking new and better ways of teaching the unsuspecting student his own language. This turns out to be quite a complex and demanding job.

It involves the student learning correct English grammar and usage, and improving his reading skills of rate, vocabulary, comprehension. The English class aims to develop each student's ability to express himself clearly and artistically in written or oral form, to convey original ideas, and to interpret acquired ideas and knowledge.

Already such subversive items as literature appreciation, creative writing, and the fabulous Language Arts Festival have become an accepted part of English Department activities.

The most significant work of the English Department is the development of language and effective communication, for the future of the world may ultimately hinge on man's ability to understand and be understood.

Students Broaden Through Foreign

A barrier just as real as barbed wire and brick in its effect is the tragic inability of man to communicate with man. Sometimes it is a mere blockade of words, but often it is an abyss between ways of thinking and living.

The Foreign Language Department can only start to break this barrier, even with the proficiency a student gains after four years of study. However, the Department does aim to give a basic speaking knowledge of a language and an awareness and appreciation of other customs and cultures, which can help the student enjoy more richly the world in which he lives.

Offering French, Latin, German, and Spanish, this Department has given rise to five active language clubs which, among other activities, award scholarships to honor outstanding students. Discovering a foreign language and a new world to go with it can open many doors at Bella Vista.

Members of Latin Club built a float for the homecoming parade and helped to promote the International Banquet.

Spanish Club members added fun to their learning of the language and explored the culture and customs of Spanish speaking countries. They saw a Spanish movie, attended a Mexican Ballet Folklórico performance, and ended the year with a taco party. Many of the members participated in the International Banquet held in February.

Los Aliados is the Spanish Honor Society for the advanced Spanish speaking students. Membership is by an B average by third semester students or A average by second semester students. Part Of Home Economics

"I expect," wrote George Meredith, "that Woman will be the last animal civilized by Man." Bella Vista's Home Economics Department, however, does a considerably efficient and polished job of domesticating its girls, though its methods are far from tame.

The recipe calls for a wide variety of courses designed to attract every girl--from Home Nursing and Child care to Foods to Decorative Arts--seasoned with plenty of fresh, interesting activities. The Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow Contest awards scholarships to show Senior girls how they measure up, while the Foods II classes sell cookbooks to raise money for a scholarship for Bella Vista girls.

Students Find Fun, Future In

The Industrial Arts Department is on the move every year to bring its students the best possible training. The courses offered are already highly diversified--among them are Auto Shop, Woodworking, Electricity, Mechanical Drawing, and Photography. Each teacher is highly skilled in his special area, and is constantly updating his courses to keep up with the latest technical improvements. A lot of work is involved in simply maintaining the condition of the equipment such as the several new motors available to be worked on this year. The Department's efforts show in the fact that classes are full of students who come to work after school or whenever they have a free period. There are often un-scheduled classes, and the clubs are popular too.

Finally, there are many Industrial Arts Fairs, competitions and awards to stimulate student interest. At the state-wide 1966 Spring Festival, Bella Vista boasted two winners in competition so stiff that most schools cannot expect even one. An Industrial Arts course can be valuable to every student, no matter what his plans for the future. It will prepare him to make the simple repairs every home owner encounters. If he likes to tinker, fix, build with his hands, an Industrial Arts course can help him get a job in the technical world, or can provide a creative, satisfying hobby in later life.

Shutterbugs Progress In Photographic Precision

Photographers use their skill to produce portraits.

The club produced a photographic art exhibit to exchange with another school, took pictures at the annual "twirp" dance, and created memorable "keepsakes" for future enjoyment.

Toni Peters, a member of the 1966 Shutterbug group, won first place of $100 for her portfolio at the Industrial Arts Fair.

To the average student, the realm of mathematics beyond algebra or geometry is a lot of awesome but meaningless doodles which have little to do with him. High school mathematics, although calculus is offered at Bella Vista, is not sophisticated enough for the student to be able to see where he fits in the picture.

The Mathematics Department tries to present this exciting aspect of their subject which many students would otherwise miss. For mathematics plays a part in almost every conceivable endeavor--in composing music, in social studies, business, art, recreation, home economics, and of course, in science and technology. It will become an increasingly important tool through the computer as a means of imposing order on complexity.

Bella Vista's Mathematics Department provides a high quality of education from basic math through calculus by teachers who know and like their subject. (You may even get Hamlet's soliloquy with your cosines.)

Mathematics has many practical applications, but its major worth is that it expresses man's highest achievement--thinking in the abstract.

Success And Fun For B.V. Groups

Madrigals take time out for fun before getting down to business.

Bella Vista's musicians really love their music. They have to. Imagine practicing at 7:30 each morning as do the Madrigals to prepare for their many concerts and performances. One such performance was the Madrigals' appearance on a Christmastime television program.

Following the football teams to games away from home is all in the line of duty for the pep band. In addition, pep band plays at all rallies and home basketball games.

Another active singing group is Girls' Glee. As you can see, each of these musical groups puts a lot of effort into their music; but needless to say they get a lot of enjoyment back.

BV Boasts Biggest Band

A sitting at any performance of the A Cappella Choir or the band will convince you that superb musical talent and teaching are to be found at Bella Vista.

Both the choir and the band gave Fall, Christmas, and Spring concerts at school for the student body. Both have performed at the Golden Empire Music Festival and earned "Superior" ratings. A Cappella sang at Baccalaureate service, while the band played at the Graduation ceremony.

The name A Cappella refers to singing "without accompaniment," and the music which the human voice alone can produce is truly beautiful. A Cappella performs in a musical each year, and in 1966 appeared in a Christmas television program.

The band played at rallies and marched at home football games and in parades. Bella Vista had the distinction of having the largest marching band in Sacramento County with ninety-six members.

Girls Find P.E. Activities Fun

From golfing on the Great Court to playing wacky rainy day games, the Girls' Physical Education Department is constantly on its toes to keep P.E., a state required course, from becoming a dull, mass-produced affair.

The wide variety of activities is astonishing - - including team sports such as basketball, volleyball, baseball, and hockey, plus swimming, modern dancing and folk dancing, gymnastics, archery and more.

The teachers make Girls' P.E. a time to have fun while developing strong, healthy bodies. Though some girls may not appreciate this fact, the opportunity to work hard, play hard, and forget worries is important to the development of the total person.

Swimmers build up endurance for better qualification in swim meets.

The girls at school were not only sport spectators, but active participants in representing Bella Vista in nine sport day competitions. The sport days were attended by all high schools in the district. Bella Vista sponsored the sport day for archery in May.

In the Girls Athletic Association, members competed in swimming, volleyball, gymnastics, basketball, and other sports. The girls also attended two play days; one at Sacramento State College and one at American River College.

G.A.A. members work for fun, competition and friendship through sport participation.

Boys Put Sound Mind In Sound

Despite a flurry of casts and crutches, the "men in white" gave judo an enthusiastic reception. Judo promises to become one of the most popular activities yet offered by Bella Vista's Boys' Physical Education Department. For the males to indulge in, there are wrestling, gymnastics, badminton, a grueling challenge course, as well as the customary competition sports.

The P.E. teachers have a no-nonsense attitude. Their emphasis is on physical development, and they believe that P.E. provides a good workout which is healthy for the mind as well as for the body--clears the air, so to speak. Training in physical skills in high school will provide the basis for a satisfying recreation or hobby in later years and is important as a time to release tensions. This philosophy leads to good discipline in the classes as Bella Vista's championship coaches do a winning job with our boys.

The Sophomores find that the sure way to win the race is to be quick off the line.

Since science is such an integral part of our life, one can hardly be considered educated without knowing something of its accomplishments, which have transformed our world in less than a century.

Yet many scientific milestones started simply with the itch to know. We hope this itch is contagious, for it is the best legacy Bella Vista science teachers can give their students, the scientists of tomorrow. They do aim to communicate certain information which will be relevant to all students, not just those bound for a career in science. To provide a consistently high quality of education and to satisfy their own desire for knowledge, the teachers read widely and take classes themselves in order to keep abreast of the exploding frontiers of science.

One result has been Bella Vista's 1966 Chemistry Team, which won first place in competition with fifteen Sacramento area high schools. Another has been the mushrooming Chemistry Club, where science students can take advantage of the equipment to explore in more depth the many fascinating subjects which they have touched upon in class.

Man And His World From Studies

Oral reports are the activity of the day for Economic Geography students.

Mrs. Weiher's World History students divide into discussion groups to work on a project.

People-complex, paradoxical, yet vital and fascinating-that is what social science is all about. After all, the world is full of them.

The Social Science Department tries to offer a balanced program so that students can better understand the world around them. Another important goal is to prepare the student as a future citizen, with knowledge of his system of government, his national heritage, and his economic system.

Besides the required courses, more specialized classes are offered for those who are interested in the area of social studies. Among these are Sociology, Economic Geography, California History, the History of Western Civilization (a course in the thought and philosophy of the western world), and offered for the first time this year, is a course in International Relations. Although Bella Vista has some of the best and most varied social science offerings, the Department would like to expand even more to add studies in psychology, the culture of the Far East, and others.

There are numerous activities and controversial subjects to challenge the students and stimulate interest in social studies.

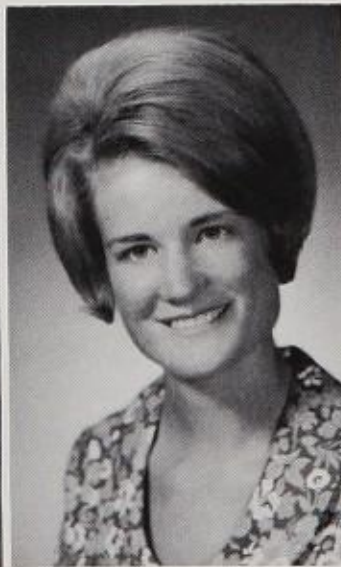

The Social Science Department has an important role, for it is by understanding the past and interpreting the events of the present that we are able to shape the future.

BRONCOS REPEAT

VARSITY FOOTBALL-BOTTOM ROW: Coach Lee, Jim Hasbrouck, Bill Lessa, Gary Anderson, Pat Faretto, Mike Mapes, Lary Ostroff, Dan Green, Dennis Black, Coach Driscoll. This year marked the high point for Bella Vista's football team as they became the only team in C.V.C. history to go through a season undefeated and untied. These 9 wins, along with last year's final five games, give the Bronco eleven the county record for most consecutive wins.

Outstanding performers for the Broncos were Mike Carner, who led the county in rushing and scoring, and led the C.V.C. in total offense; Earl Hicks, who topped the county in pass receiving, and probably became the only end in the county, or perhaps even the state, to gain over 100 yds. rushing in one game; also, Gary Kammerer, who led the entire county in punting. The Broncos star however, would have to be blitzing line-backer Lynn Mason, who led the defensive team in driving the opponents for a total of 411 yards lost. Also the Bronco defense recovered 9 fumbles, intercepted 8 passes and gave up an average of only 12 pts. per game.

An interesting fact to note is that Bella Vista was either behind or tied in 4 games at the halftime break, but came back strong to win every one.

Earl Hicks and Mike Carner were chosen for the all-city honors on offense, and Lynn Mason was chosen on defense. This is the best representation that Bella Vista has ever had on an all-city squad. Also, Hicks made the Superior California first team and Carner and Mason were elected to the second team.

INJURIES CRIPPLE

This year will certainly have to go on record as the most frustrating season ever faced by a Bella Vista football team. The Bronco Sophs, after compiling an almost perfect season last year as Freshmen, which won them the championship, wound up with a dismal 3-4 record in conference play; (5-4 overall).

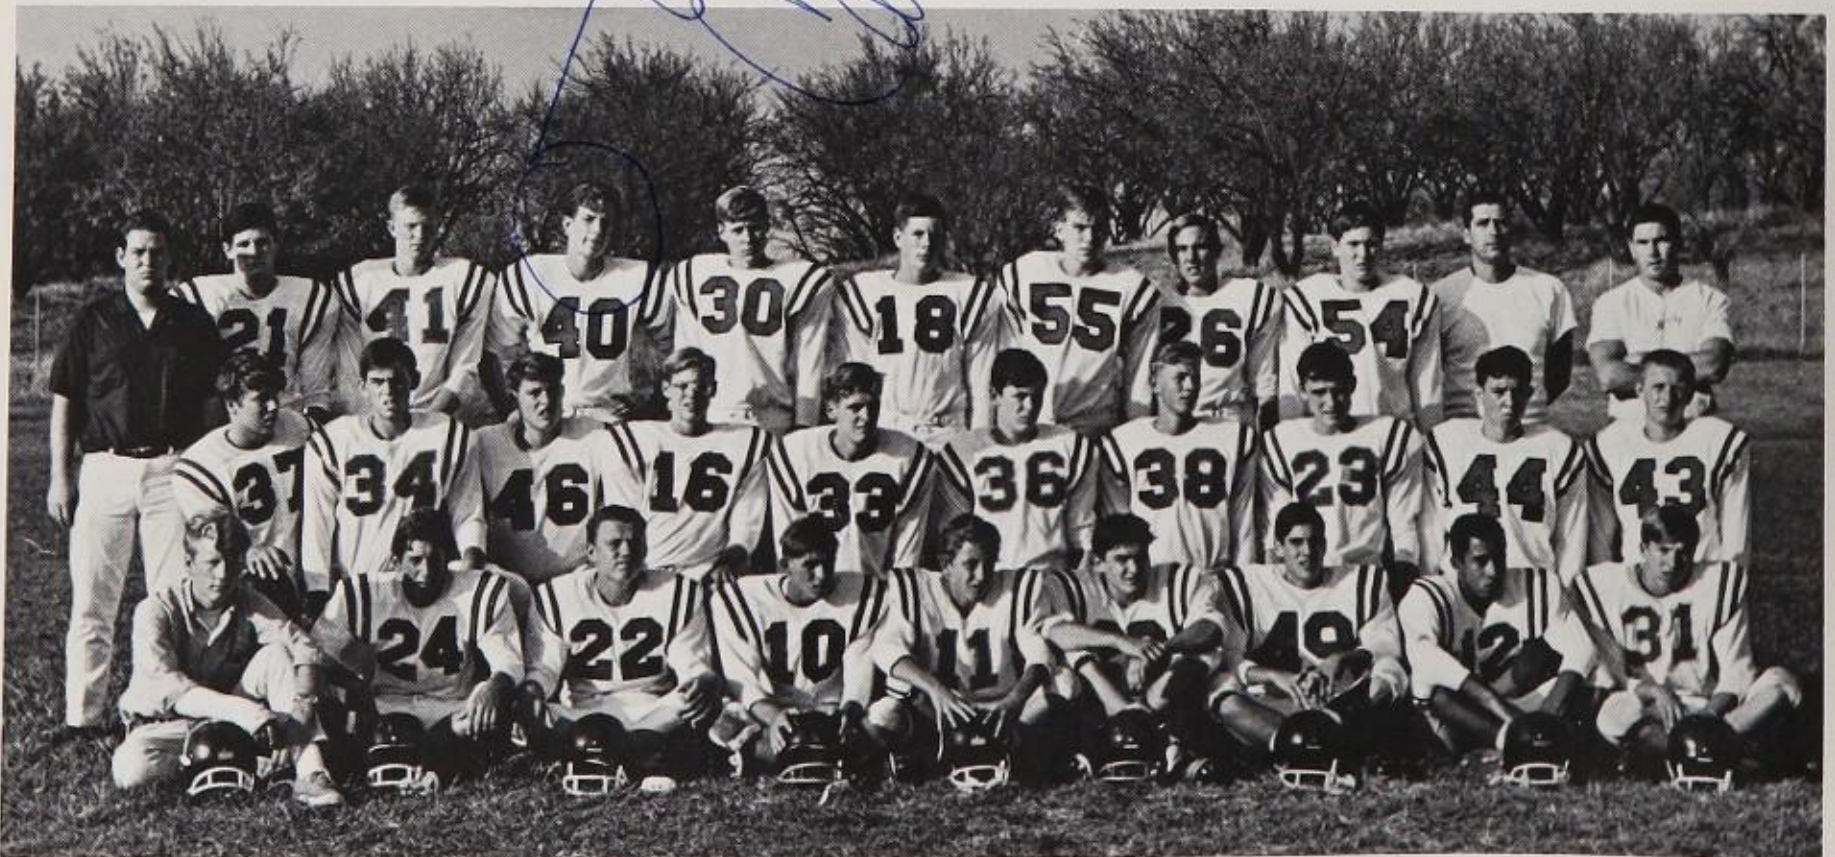

What was the reason for this sudden drop? Football's oldest plague, the injury. The Sophs also lost four outstanding players to the championship varsity team.

This is enough to slow any team down, but not Bella Vista as they walked over their first two opponents, McClatchy and Sacramento. Then the bomb fell as suddenly the entire Bronco backfield were freshmen. Angus Maxwell, Sharm Smith, and Gregg Jackson, were out with injuries. Taking over for Smith was Ron Lansdon, a freshman, who continued to astonish fans with his tremendous ability to break loose. Mike Hall, also a freshman, took over the Jackson at fullback until an injury forced him out also, Dick Kersten took over for Maxwell at quarterback.

For the final game with La Sierra, the first string was healthy again as they defeated La Sierra 26-0.

Frosh Strong Defense

If the Freshman football team is any indication of the years to come, Bella Vista should remain a strong football power until at least the year 1970.

This year under Coach Roy Erickson, the Bronco frosh compiled a 7-1 record. Their only defeat was to undefeated San Juan by a score of 19-13. The Broncos remained in contention for the title up to the very last game.

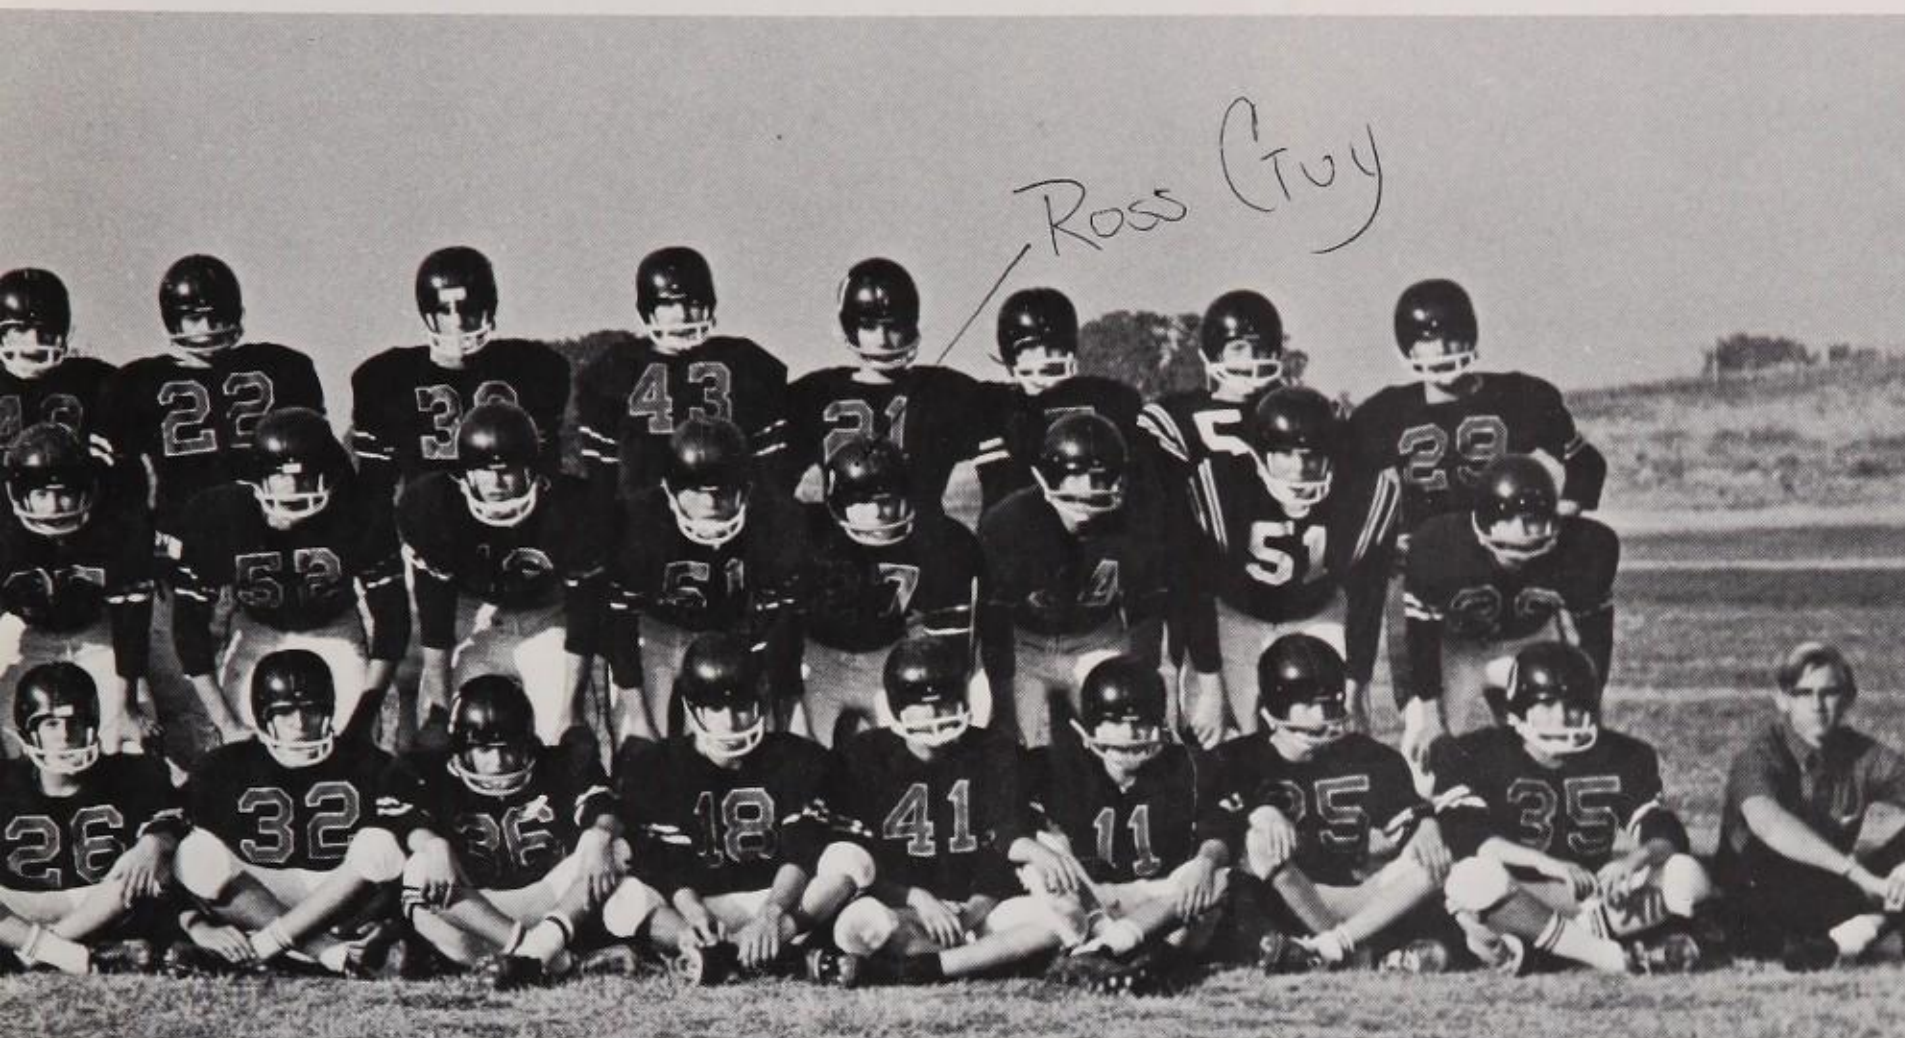

The strong point of the Bronco Frosh was their defense, which is almost becoming a tradition at Bella Vista. They performed the remarkable task of holding five of their opponents to minus net yardage. The defense gave up an average of only 6.5 points per game while scoring an average of 24 points per game.

Randy Cantrell led the team in rushing and Jim Knox was voted the Most Valuable Player.

Cross Country Rates As CVC Power

This year for the second straight year, the sub-section Cross Country individual champion was from Bella Vista. Although the Varsity team finished fifth place with a 3-4 record, Kurt Tate proved to be the areas top runner.

The Sophomore team had a fairly successful season as they finished in a tie for third place. Kerry Vann, their top runner, was moved up to Varsity. The Freshman team was the strongest of all as they lost but one meet to take second place in the Capital Valley Conference.

The Cross Country teams take an after meet "warm down" after another Bella Vista victory.

This year's basketball season was fairly similar to last years. Once again we lost to El Camino, and this year, also to Del Campo, but still won the championship. Finishing with an overall record of 18 wins and 13 losses, it is the best record ever recorded by a Bella Vista Varsity team. The team once again led the county in scoring, averaging around 76 points per game. Also, once again the leading individual scorer in the county was from Bella Vista. The varsity Broncos also equaled a mark set last year by reaching the century mark twice, both times 104 points.

Outstanding for the all-senior team were Jeff Johnson, who scored 31 points in a game against La Sierra; Gary Graves who rebounded and blocked shots; Scot Isaacson, who took the spotlight when Graves was out; and Dave Triano, who led the county in scoring.

County In Scoring

The scoreboard shows a tremendous lead by Bella Vista as Dave shoots.

Dave Triano out-fakes San Juan to get a clear shot on his way to scoring 31 pts.

Dave Triano is, without a doubt, the finest basketball player ever to play for Bella Vista, and the Capital Valley Conference. Many newspaper, also, claim him to be the greatest in the county for many years.

At the beginning of the season, Triano was chosen by experts to be on the All-State second team. Many people felt this, perhaps, to be an optimistic prediction; but if an All-State team was chosen now, he would be a definite contender for the first team.

Among Dave's achievements are: making the All-City team two years straight; leading the county in scoring with a 24 point average; breaking the C.V.C. scoring record with 43 points in the game against Encina; and being named the outstanding prop basketballer in the area.

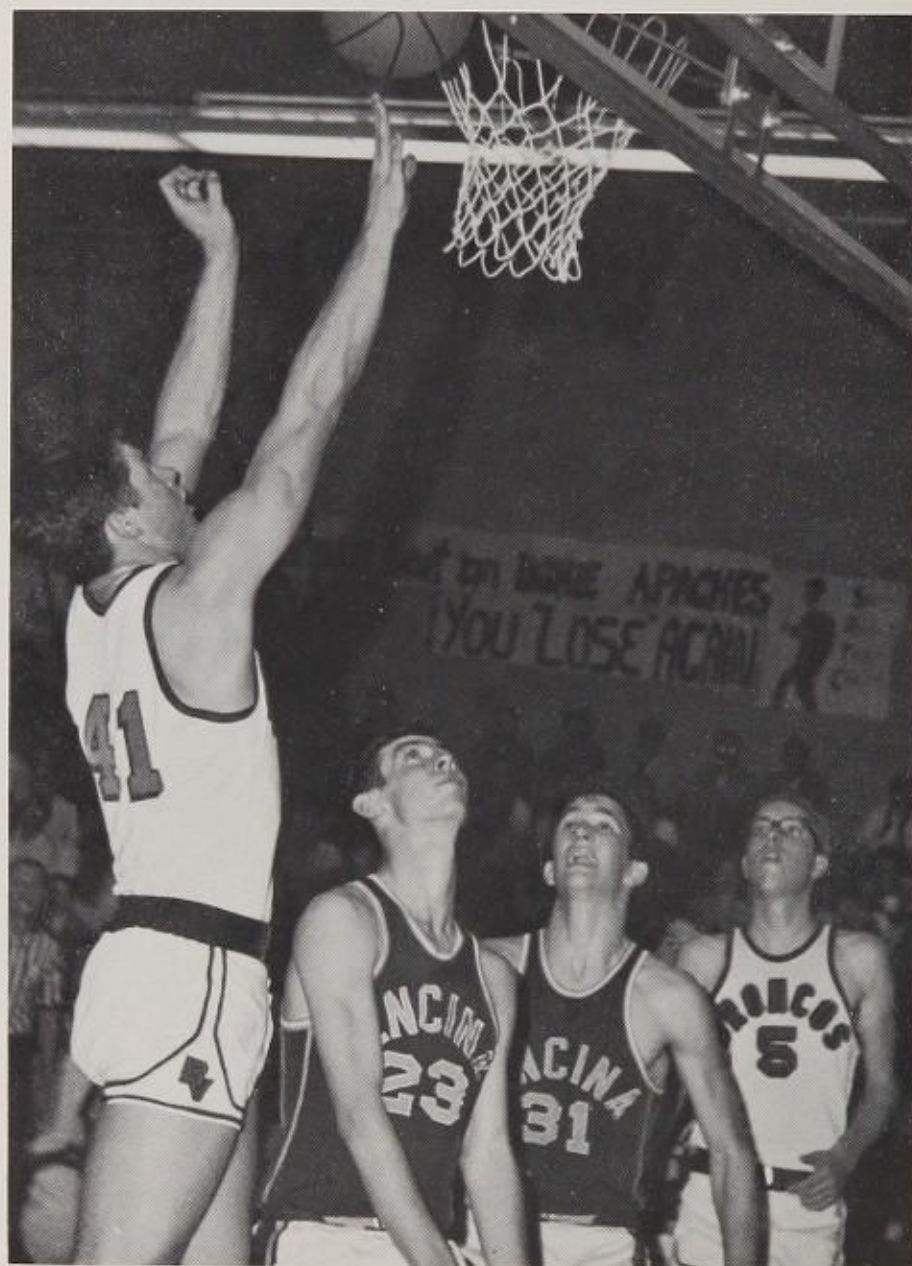

Shown at half-time warming up, Dave Triano set a CVC scoring record with 43 pts. against Encina.

JV's Surprise Juniors,

Before the basketball season started, everyone remarked that they would get to the basketball games in time to watch the varsity game, but to miss the J.V. onslaught. The jayvees surprised everyone by winning their first five games and going on to finish with an excellent record of 16 wins and only five losses. This was good for a second place behind a strong Rio Americano team which placed three members on the mythical J.V. all-conference team selected by the coaches.

The J.V.'s provided plenty of excitement as they won several games by only one point, once against El Camino. In the final game of the season, Don Ritchey made a 'life or death' shot with only one second on the clock to give the Broncos a 40-39 win over San Juan.

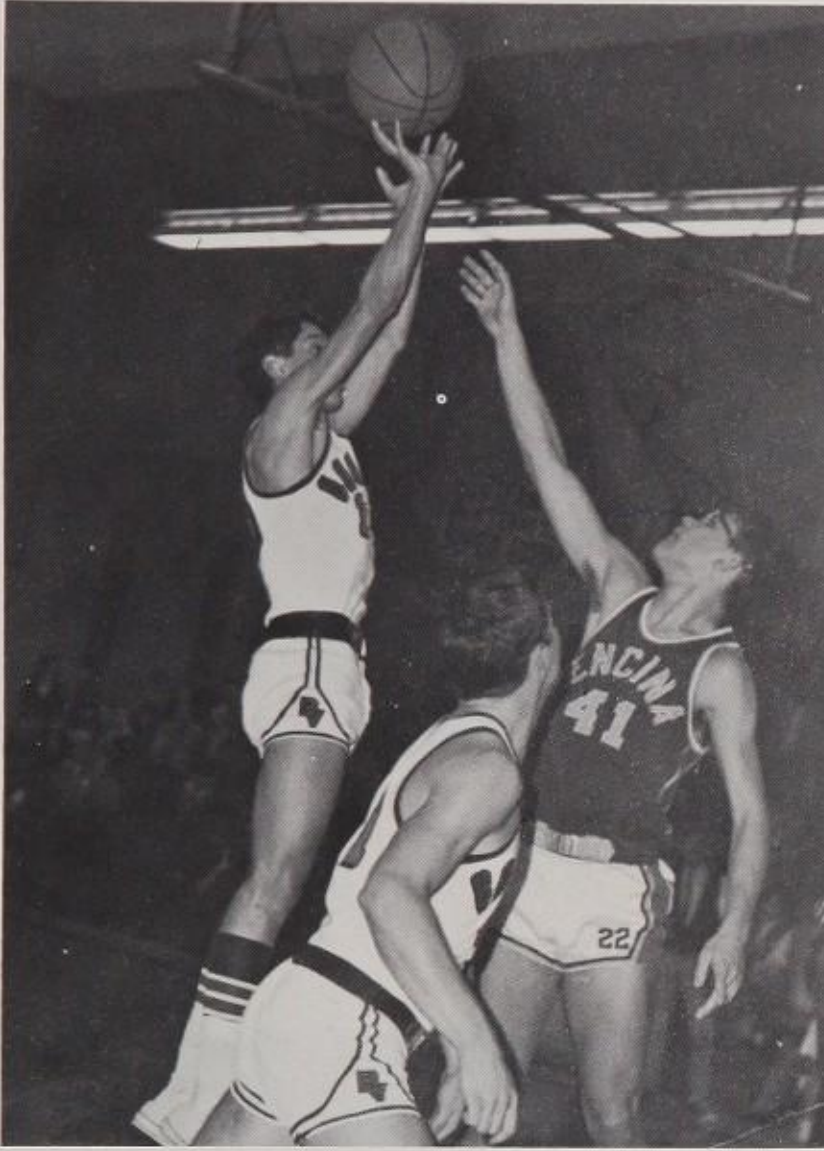

Don Ritchey scores two points.

Rex Petracek breaks away to score two points for the sophs.

Capture First Place

After losing the first preseason games by a total of 11 points, the young Bronco team came on strong. A string of eight consecutive wins gave the Sophomores co-championship with the strong La Sierra five. The second year men were known for their all-out hustle and team work. They relied mainly on a fast break, full court press, and a hustling zone defense for their championship league record of 7 wins and 1 loss.

Season Captain was Angus Maxwell who did an outstanding job. Angus was the second highest scorer plus being one of the top rebounders. Doug Hewitt was the team's high scorer.

Dave Post gets off a jump shot.

Frosh Players Need

This year's freshman basketball team battled through a tough schedule and managed to come up with only one victory. Despite a losing season, the Frosh did have several fine players. Jim Knox developed into a fine outside shooter and a good ball handler. Roger Stein is a six foot plus player who can also shoot well.

The ingredient needed most by the Frosh quintet in order to produce a championship team is experience, which will come as the years progress.

Roger Stein towers above the other players to score 2 points for the frosh.

Sophomore Andy Souter demonstrates the 'Bella Vista ride'. Many opponents dislike to wrestle BV because of this ride.

Rated First In County

This year's varsity wrestling team is probably the best to ever come to Bella Vista. In duel matches, they had an almost perfect record of 10 wins and one defeat. No CVC team has ever gone undefeated. The grapplers only loss was to twice-beaten La Sierra. The score was as close as it can get, 25-24.

The highlights of the season were first, the El Camino match, where BV came from a 12 point disadvantage to win, 22-19; the league tournament, which BV easily won ahead of La Sierra who finished only fourth; and a non-league victory over previously top-rated and undefeated El Dorado.

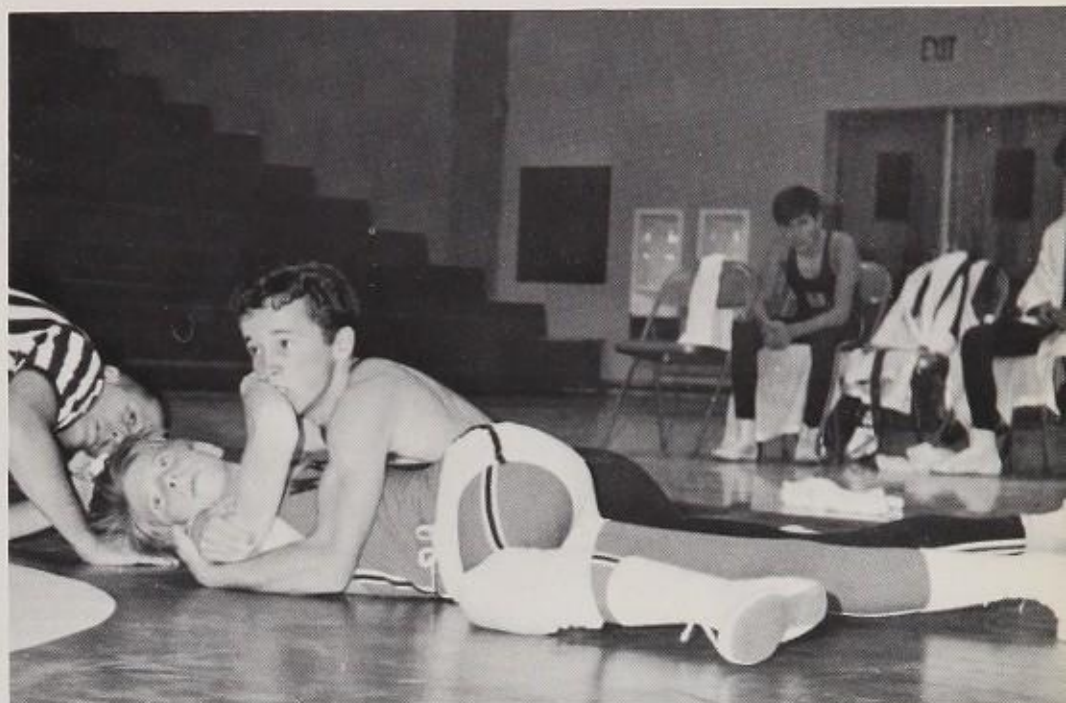

Earl Hicks broke the school record for consecutive wins. The old record was 22, at last count Earl had 32 wins.

The most improved wrestler was Dennis Black, a junior. In this, his first year of varsity competition, he won the CVC championship and placed second at the sub-sections.

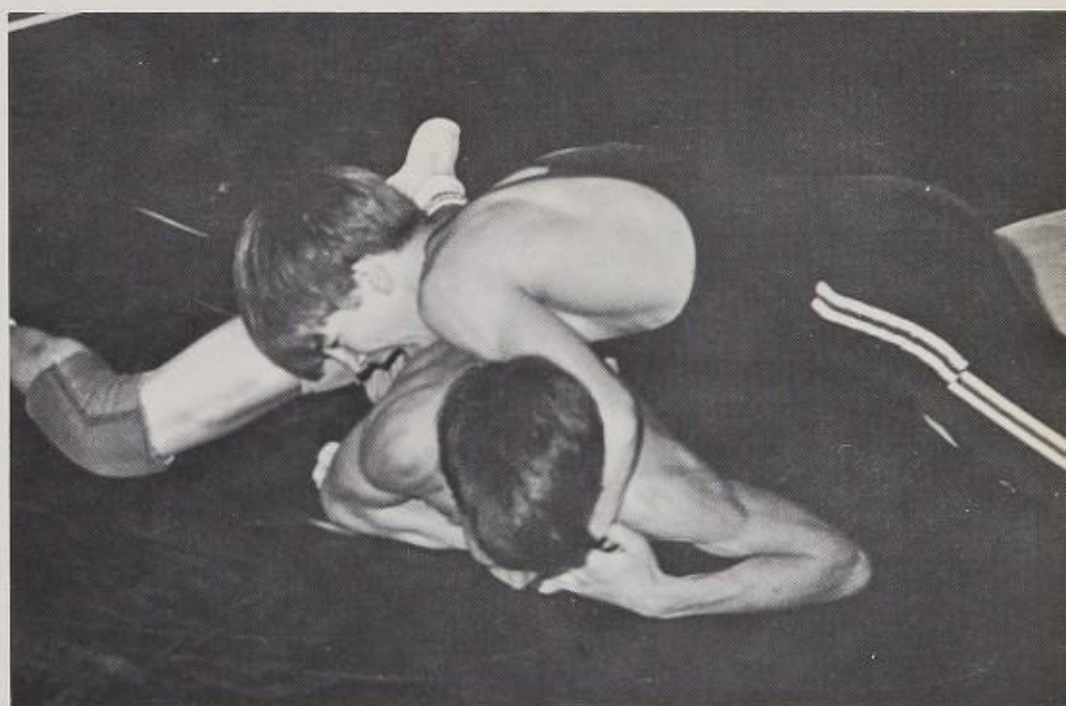

There were four sophomores on the varsity, all of which placed at the CVC tourney.

JV Grapplers Win

Two JV wrestlers struggle for position during the match against Woodland.

After several years of coming very close, Bella Vista has finally won a junior varsity championship.

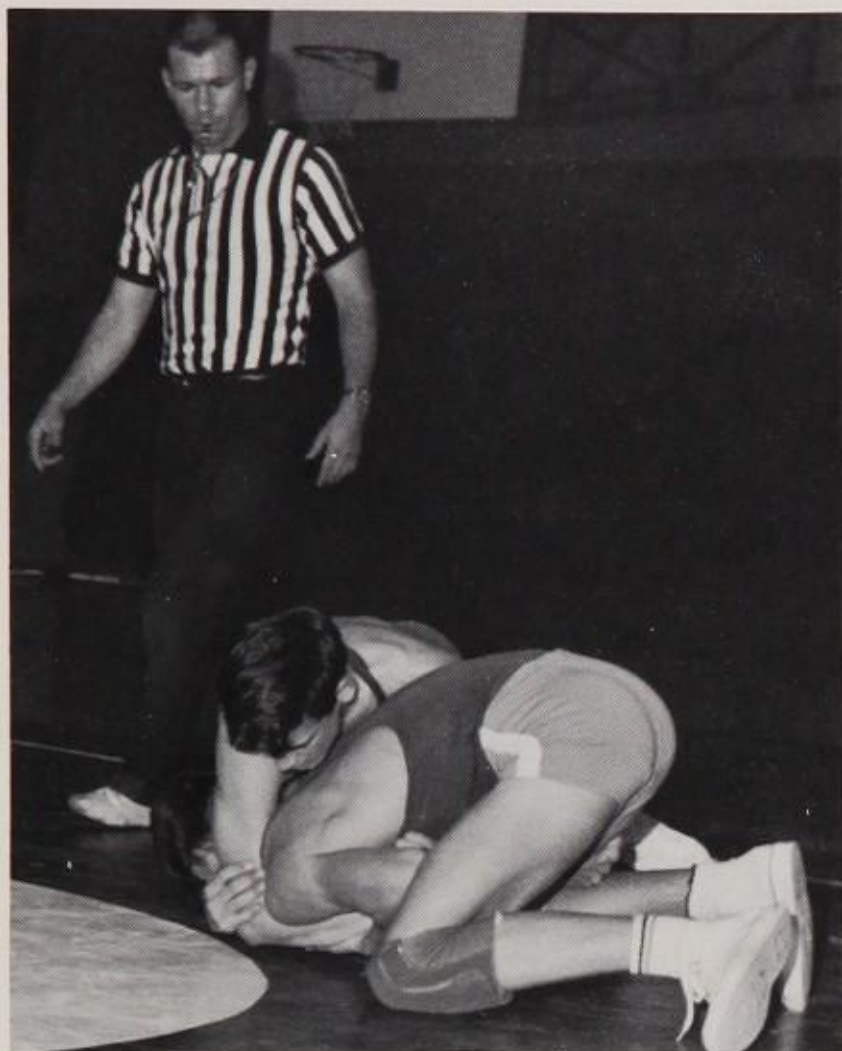

A record number of 35 boys, most of which were recruited from Coach Erickson's freshmen football team, came out for JV wrestling. All 35 boys lettered.

Eight of the thirteen starters were out for their first time but tremendous ability overshadowed any inexperience.

Outstanding performers for the JV's were Mike Connelly, Rich Westby, Larry Mason, Bob Wallace, Kurt Tripe, Mike Young, Jerry Nord, Joe Campbell, and John Riggs. Some of these were undefeated and the others lost but one or two.

Coach Erickson's secret to a successful team was night after night of grueling workouts.

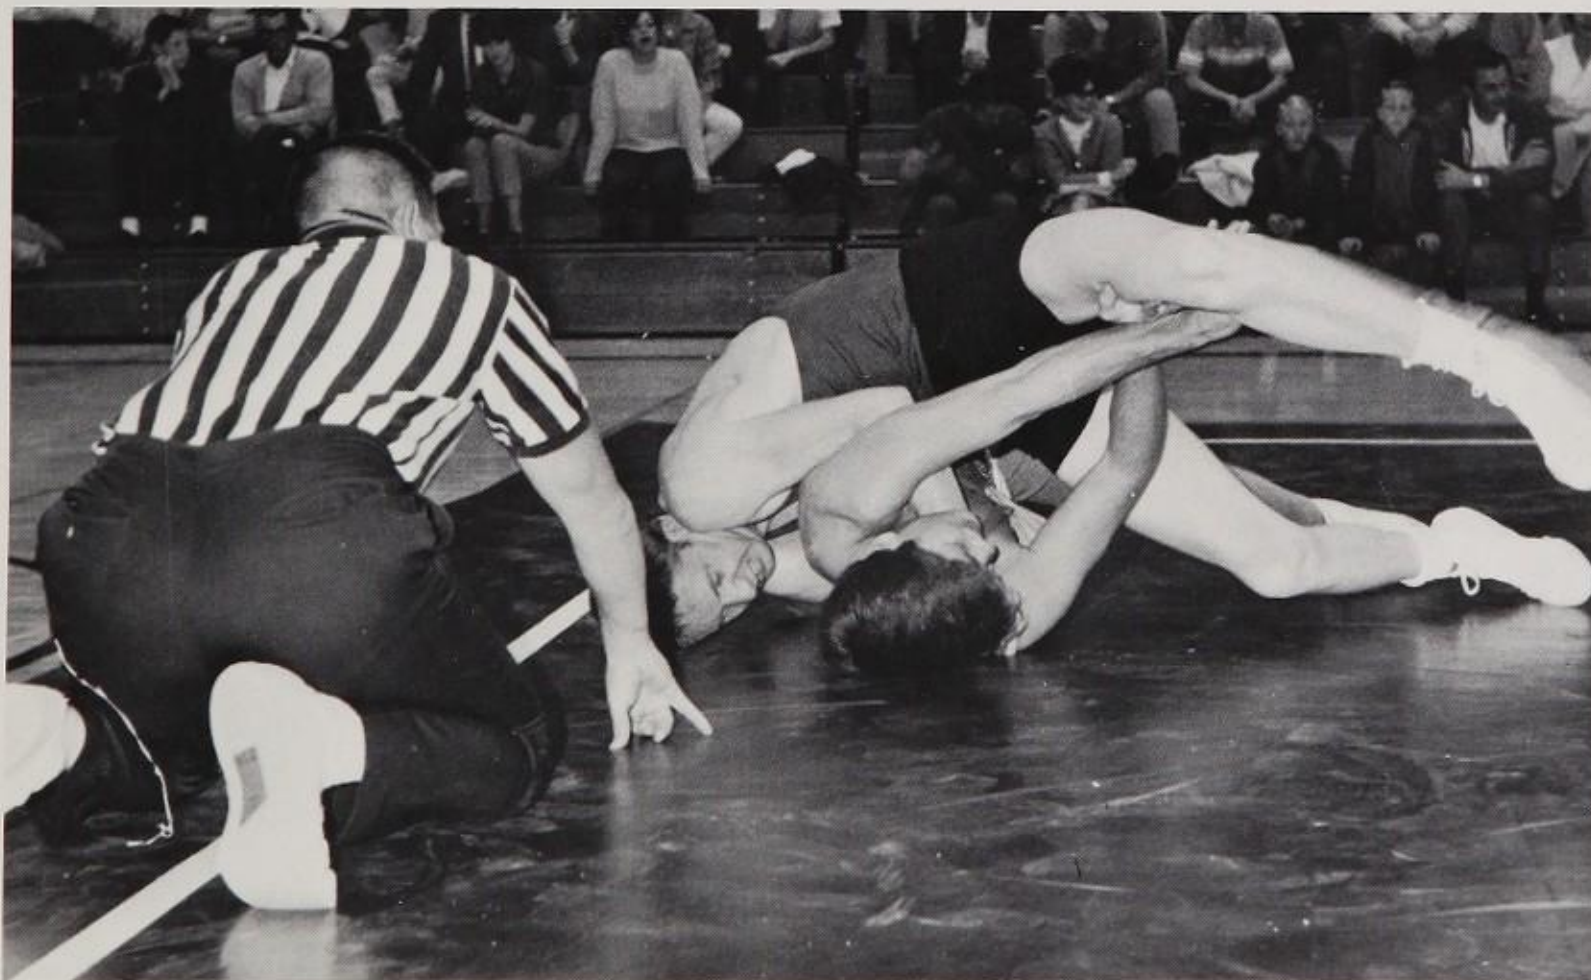

First CVC Championship

Barry Boustead works for the pin against Mira Loma.

The referee gets set to call a pin as a Bella Vista opponent goes to his back.

Jim Hasbrouck is an outstanding diver. He won the CVC championship in his sophomore, junior, and senior year.

Shows Improvement

Diver Jim Hasbrouck builds his diving skill by going through vigorous exercises before beginning practice.

Trackmen Fare Well

This year's track team had the potential to win a championship, but the lack of participation by last year's lettermen kept the team from victory. The varsity team consisted of only 23 members, of which only 11 were seniors. Considering that there are 13 events in a track meet, this leaves less than two runners per event.

Despite the lack of depth, the cinder-men had several outstanding performers. Seniors Kurt Tate, Ed Gaucher, Mike Phippen, Frank Avella, and Nils Dihle were among the top performers in the CVC. Returning lettermen from the class of '68 are Richard Mackey, Robert Wehrell, Harry Goddard, Jon Teel, and Randy Aeschliman.

Ed Gaucher proved to be one of the strong returning lettermen on the Varsity track team.

In New League

Spirit

The "Red Gestapo" was a going group. They were always on the move promoting school spirit with their colorful posters and pep rallies. Rally Committee policed the games and kept the cheering section under control for competition in the Sportsman-ship Trophy race.

Assisting the girls in red, Pep Club started the year selling pompoms at the football games and sponsored an after-game dance. They decorated the Christmas tree in the cafetorium for the holidays. Pep Club members displayed and encouraged school spirit.

CLASSES

Scholarship And

Again this year the Bank of America awards were given to outstanding seniors. Each department or phase of school life was covered and a deserving senior was selected to receive the Plaque or Certificate in each.

Another way of recognizing outstanding scholastic achievement at Bella Vista was by membership in the California Scholarship Federation. This organization also had many service projects, such as ticket taking at games. Membership in C.S.F. is by application and a certain grade point average must be met in order to be eligible to join.

Registration

Fall Student Body President Fred Wolfe proceeds to his next class.

Led by Fred Wolfe and the other Fall student body officers, an important addition to the Constitution this year was the by-law amendment on voter registration, which requires registration for all B.V. students prior to voting in elections. Also, the Cafetorium Problems Committee was formed this semester to resolve all conflicts concerning the cafeteria and the lunch system. These accomplishments will be strong, lasting effects on student government in the years to come.

Under President Jeff Johnson, many new plans were undertaken during the spring semester. Committees were organized to deal with student problems and action was taken on many items of business. The president, along with the Executive Board also were in charge of the cultural exchange of the Mexican students to the Bella Vista campus. The problems of student discipline were undertaken by a committee especially set up for this purpose.

Governing Organizations

Three governing bodies that greatly influenced BV life this year were the Court of Justice, the Student Council and the Girls League Board.

The Court, led by Chief Justice, Bill Davidson (Fall), and Chief Justice, Ross Smart (Spring), had the power to suggest punishment for offenders of school rules at school activities.

Many a heated discussion developed at Student Council meetings and important legislation was passed this year showing the accelerated student interest in the government of Bella Vista.

The Girls League Board organized the girls of BV in many successful activities such as the annual Twirp Week and the Christmas Fashion Show.

SPIRIT SQUADS LEAD FANS

High kicking and spirit provoking, Bella Vista Cheerleaders and Songleaders led the fans during all major sports events once again this year.

Many hours of practice sessions went into each routine before it was performed before the spectators.

"Another first" at BV was the addition of boy cheerleaders in the JV squad, bringing more spirit and pep to our Junior Varsity athletic events.

Dedication, Organization And

Senior class secretary now—executive secretary tomorrow. This is a likely wish of Barbara Jacques. She did a fine job as class secretary, and was also a fine student.

Another major contributor to class activities was Suzanne D'Arcy, who served as the Senior class treasurer, as well as on the Rally Committee. Suzanne's outstanding ability and accomplishments as an artist has won her much recognition, as it will in continuing years.

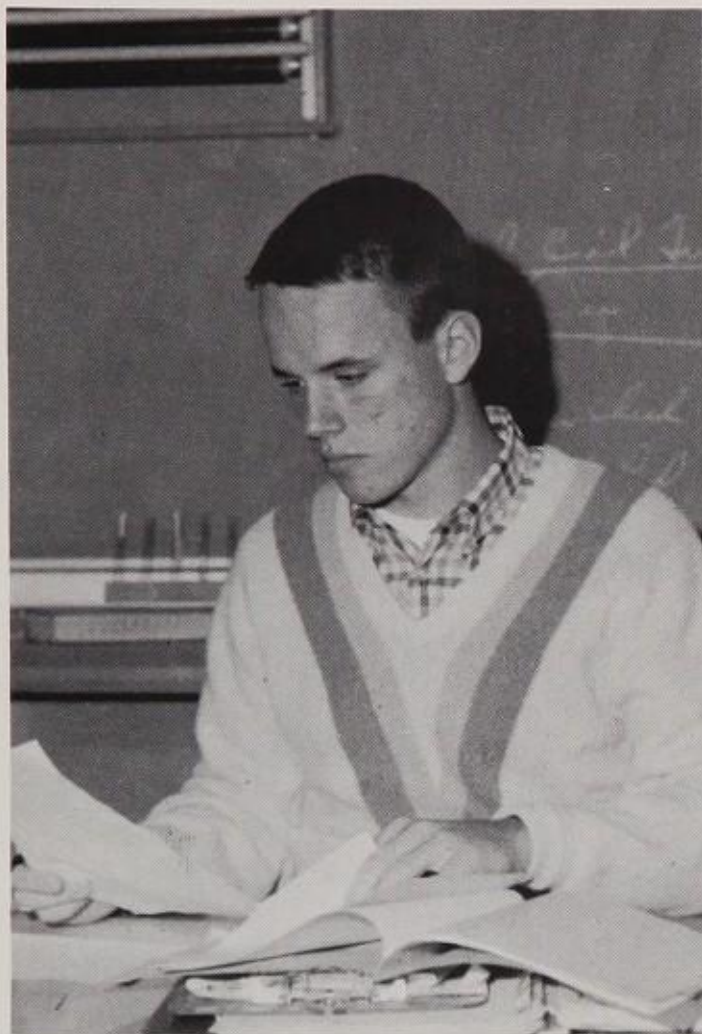

Many of our class activities, such as Homecoming, Junior Prom, Senior Banquet can be traced back directly to the source of energy—June Baril. Being a member of the newspaper staff, Rally, and Senior class Vice-President kept June quite busy in the past Four years.

President Randy Harris, Mrs. Ellen Ford, Senior class advisor, and all of the "behind the scene" workers helped to mold the accomplished Senior class.

Participation: Formula Of Success

A diligent worker, Randy Harris, served as president of our Senior class, but that is not all he has done. Randy was always in the middle of many activities, including past class events, student government, drama productions, and music. He was the drum major for Bella Vista's marching band, and was also an excellent trumpet soloist. These and many other things qualify Randy as being the deserving and outstanding student that he is.

Four years have elapsed—four busy, exciting, frustrating, and rewarding years have entwined in our lives. They have prepared us for the new world which we are now entering and have set the courses for many of our lives. Some of us may begin working, starting a family, or traveling. Others will continue their education in higher institutions of learning. Wherever we may turn, however, we can all look back at those valuable four years that have contributed so much toward our future.

Our freshman year at Bella Vista was our first big step. A new way of life opened up for all of us. This was our adjusting year; recognizing the many fields of study and social activities that were available.

From there we began experimenting and taking advantage of the opportunities for personal and scholastic development. The class work and homework often seemed tiresome and overbearing, but looking back upon those years brings to mind the realization that it wasn't without purpose or reward. Maybe it was that one certain person you saw between classes every day, a well deserved grade on that term paper, or perhaps those football games and dances which seemed to balance out work and recreation.

Whatever the memories may be, we shall always look back and recall those wonderful and beneficial four years at Bella Vista.

"United They Stand"—proof of the successful and memorable past four years at Bella Vista.

“Walk Together, Talk Together,”

The growth of the American Field Service is attributed to the interest and participation of many people. Suzanne Shenfil, whom we sent to New Zealand, and Elizabeth Gopez, our exchange student from the Philippines, are but two of many who make possible the bonds of friendship across the oceans and around the world.

Much personal value is attained by being an exchange student in another country—adjusting to a new school, meeting people, making many friends, assuming new responsibilities, and experiencing a full year of growing up.

Elizabeth will share with her friends all of her personal experiences and gains, "the countless little happy things, especially the football games which I know I'll never have a chance of seeing again."

In a farewell note to Suzanne's New Zealand friends she wrote about the "bond of kinship between your land and mine, our hopes for the future so closely combined."

Beth gives a smile of satisfaction as another day's work is complete.

Contributing to the success of the American Field Service are people such as Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington. They provided a fine home for Beth. Joe, Jim, and Sherrie accepted her as their "other sister."

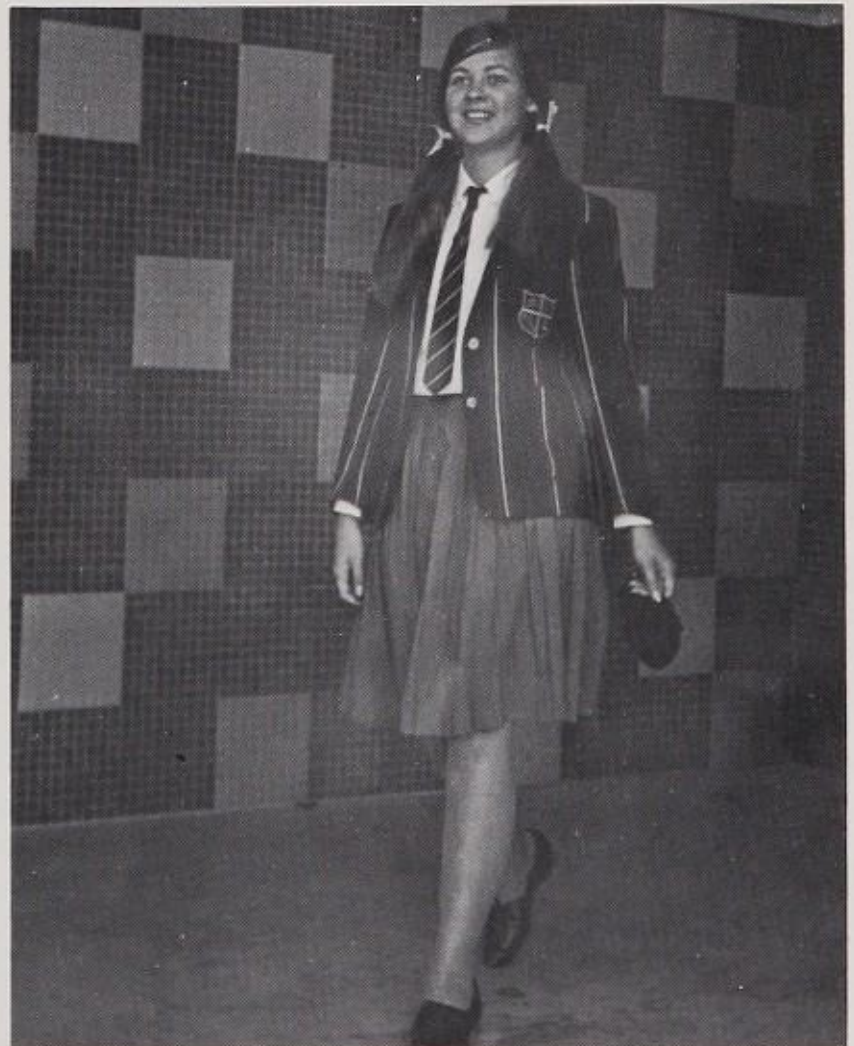

O Ye People Of The Earth . . .”

Beth and Suzi have shared with each other their impressions of the school and people that they became acquainted with during their visits in foreign countries.

Beth enjoyed many exciting events at BV, especially her first football rally with Miss Fellows.

Suzi's first week back at school kept her busy with informal class presentations about her many experiences in New Zealand.

Singing for the Girls League Christmas Assembly is Karla Kellogg. She contributed much time to the Rally Committee although music is the core of her daily enjoyment. Karla received a medal in the Music Department, was Madrigal President, often sang in rally skits, and participated in musicals and school theatrical presentations.

Junior Class representatives discussed ways of earning money to finance the prom and other Junior activities.

And Exciting Year As Juniors

Tom Beres, Junior Class President, led the Class of '68 in a very successful year.

The class of '68, as Juniors, have had three years of high school life and before they know it they will be leaving Bella Vista. They have been voting in school elections and attending Bella Vista's activities.

The Juniors have been in charge of different activities such as slave day, concession stands, the Junior Prom, and other activities. As Freshmen they sponsored a Valentine dance and as Sophomores they held a Christmas Dance: "Candy Cane A-go-go." Slave Day was a big success which put the Juniors on their way to financing the Junior Prom.

The biggest event of the Junior Class is the annual Junior Prom. The Class of '68's semi-formal dance held March 3, was decorated around the theme--"Rhapsody in Blue," and was the best of all the Junior-sponsored activities.

Junior Board members discussed the annual Slave Day, which got them on their way to financing their Junior Prom; "Rhapsody in Blue."

Its been really a fun year in french even if im not the smartest in the class. Its alot of fun being surrounded by girls. Too bad you didnt like me half as much as you did Mike Bontz. I want you to know even if I did tease you this year its only because I like you. Well good luck next year maybe I'll see you at the lake when I'm not working. See you next year

The Sophomore class represented themselves well in their second year at B.V. One of the most spirited classes yet to come to Bella Vista, they walked away with the spirit ribbon as freshmen.

This year the class entered their Homecoming float, which proved to be tough competition for the other entries. They have sponsored such money making activities as bake sales, concession stands, car washes, and "Santa's Midnight Magic," the Christmas dance, which proved to be a big success with all the classes.

Now, after two successful years, the sophomores are anxiously awaiting their junior year with the hope that they will make it bigger and better than ever before.

Experience And Skill Aid An

This year marks the beginning of another class at Bella Vista. As Freshmen, the class of '70 began its first high-school year in much the same manner as previous classes. That is, they began the same procedures of electing student body officers for the first time, and have learned to work well with one another. One of many ideas created by the Frosh class, was their "unusual" Homecoming float, a dragon with strange white legs, which actually were the legs of many enthusiastic students. Another great success was the after game Valentines dance to the theme of "Cupid Will Get You In the End." As well as being a leader in activities such as basketball and football concessions, and "Toys for Tots" at Christmas time, President, Kris Nielson, has done a fine job in helping to get another class on its feet and into the High School traditions. They have gained much experience which will be of great use to the future of Bella Vista.

And So We Create A Yearbook . . .

. . . Hopefully a tangible remembrance of 1967, a special year at Bella Vista, not only for the Seniors who completed their last year, but also a special year for each student. A year full of memories which we have hoped to capture in words and pictures for each of those years ahead. The hours spent in the classroom, at a football game cheering on a championship team, a few speeding minutes at lunch and the extra satisfaction of participating in the success of an after school club are but a few of our recollections of 1966-67.

These are the things we will remember and it is the hope of the REMUDA Staff that this book will bring back these moments and the reminiscences of the activities of this school year.

A full year of preparation has gone into the production of the 1967 REMUDA. A year of picture taking, ad selling, writing, cropping pictures and once in a while, of panic. But now it's over, the last page has been sent to the publisher and the Staff can look back on a job that is, hopefully, well done.

I would personally like to thank the Bill Smith Studio Staff for their understanding and help, and Mr. Dick Daniels of the American Yearbook Company for his professional assistance. Many thank you's could not show my appreciation for the guidance, help and many extra hours put in by Mrs. Pat Byrnes, our Advisor. Without her interest and personal sacrifices this book would not have been possible.

In concluding, I would like to add a word of appreciation to the staff of the REMUDA for their co-operation and diligence throughout the year.

Alice,

I never got to know you til this year real good. Your really a lot of fun and I enjoy being around with you. It's been especially fun in P.E. We've gotten in trouble together and had fun... if it is possible in P.E.

Your cute and have a cute personality to go along with you. Sounds stupid but it's true. I'll see you during the summer and we can think of something to do. Hope I get some classes with you next year.

Have fun and don't work too hard.

Love ya
always,

to have you in some of my classes next year. Now you've had a real experience, you've known someone who had laryngitis so bad they couldn't talk. Let me tell you, it's no tea party! Don't get too many ~~one~~ tardies next year, and don't do anything wrong. Stay as sweet as you are.

Adrian Ego

Alice,
It was so fun to go up and say to each other "Hi Alice, Hi Alice!" It was ~~so~~ really fun in P.E. together, esp. when we couldn't ~~to~~ play soft-ball - TOGETHER! I hope

Dear,

It's been lots of fun in English. The year is coming to an end and I'll be moving, otherwise I'd say hope to see you next year. Don't get me wrong though, I really do wish to see you next year sometime. You've been so much fun, because you're so sweet and you've got a great personality. I hope everything you wish for is yours. Have a lot of fun and stay as you are. Best wishes.

Alice,
I really can't say that we're real good friends but we have known each other very long and haven't had any classes together except P.E. Maybe next year hope we good luck and have fun this summer. Love

Alice,

well, this year
 has come and gone,
 oh, so fast! And what do we have to show
 for it? A lot of memories.
 Keep them. Their good things. You'll be a soph-
 more next year. No more will you be a punky
 freshman. I wish you is the best.

of luck in what ever you do.
 Especially boys!
 you won't need it. Although Mike's graduating you still have
 Pat. Hal Hal
 well, I won't be here, we can still write a whole bunch!
 Love ya
